

SERMON TOPIC:

How To Get Through What You'll Never Get Over

SERMON SUMMARY

This week's sermon, titled 'How to Get Through What You'll Never Get Over', focuses on finding comfort and healing through difficult times. Pastor Clark teaches from 2 Corinthians 1:3-5, emphasizing that God is the source of all comfort and uses our trials to help us comfort others. He explains that while we may get through challenging situations, we might never fully get over them, but God can use those experiences to help others who are hurting.

1. Don't quit praising God even in difficult times
2. God comforts us so we can comfort others
Everything that happens to believers passes through God's hands first
4. Continue serving and giving even while going through trials
5. The more we suffer, the more God shows His faithfulness

QUESTIONS

What does it mean that God is the 'source of all comfort'?

- How has God used past difficulties in your life to help you comfort others?
- Why is it important to keep praising God even during difficult times?
- What are some ways people try to find comfort apart from God? Why don't these ultimately satisfy?
- How can we practically comfort others while we're still going through our own struggles?
- What does it mean to 'not quit serving God' during difficult times?

How has God shown His faithfulness to you during past trials?

- What's the difference between getting through something and getting over it?

LIFE APPLICATION

This week, identify someone who is going through a difficult time and intentionally reach out to comfort them, drawing from your own experiences of how God has comforted you in the past.
